KENYAN LEGEND | World's oldest pupil remembered

JARED NYATAYA I NATION

Three-time world 3,000m steeplechase champion Moses Kiptanui hands a pair of sports shoes to Winnie Njoki of Patrick Chege Memorial Orphanage in Lanet, Nakuru. The shoes, a donation from Shoe4Africa, were distributed at a sports day in honour of Kenyan Kimani Ng'ang'a Maruge, the oldest person in the world to start primary school. Maruge, who went to school at the age of 84, died in 2009 aged 90.
